

VATC Provides Training Venues and Training Facilitation for Some of the Largest Humanitarian Non-Governmental Organizations (NGO) in the World

October 27, 2010

Tampa, Florida – Visual Awareness Technologies and Consulting, Inc. (VATC) has been selected as the sole provider of a multipurpose training venue and training facilitation to one of the largest faith based humanitarian NGO's in the world.

Non-Governmental Organizations have a physical presence on every continent. As such, they are confronted with a multitude of threats including civil unrest, terrorist activity, criminal activity, religious persecution, as well as both human made and natural disasters. VATC was chosen for its experience and expertise in full spectrum training and exercise facilitation and support. Specifically, VATC assists in providing training and support to NGO Hostile Environment Awareness Training (HEAT) and Security Risk Management Training (SRMT) which effectively addresses and mitigates critical security threats and risks faced by NGOs both domestically and abroad. VATC provides Subject Matter Expertise, and training facility support assisting in all security related workshops and training events to enhance the safety and security of NGO staffs, assets and programs minimizing operational risks. VATC has been selected as the United States based training for one of the largest humanitarian NGO's in the world.

“We at VATC are very excited and proud to be chosen for this important work,” says Sara Moola, President and Co-Founder of VATC. “Our company's experience and capabilities are truly unique in this area, and we will continue our commitment to providing world class, best value solutions to NGO and government organizations around the world.”
